Rhonda Sparlin serves as the Partner-In-Charge of the State and Local Tax Services Group at RubinBrown. Rhonda advises businesses on issues related to multistate income, franchise, and indirect tax issues. This involves addressing legislative, regulatory, and controversy matters in multiple states.

Rhonda's range of experience encompasses everything from state and home-rule city audit support, audit appeals, negotiation and litigation support, multistate planning, transactional analysis, refund reviews, taxability studies, voluntary disclosures, tax incentive analysis and tax credit studies. She gained most of her 30+ years of experience with a Big Four public accounting firm. Her experience spans the manufacturing, retail, technology, healthcare, services, software, mining and utility industries.
